The Progress of Work in Nicaragua.

Greytown Will Be Made the Terminus on the Atlantic Coast.

The Czar Dissatisfied with the Workings of the Berlin Treaty.

Dr. Peters Believed to Be Still Alive -- Politics in France--Queen Victoria Has the Rheumatism--Notes.

By Telegraph to The Times. NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—By the Associated Press.] The steamship Hondo of the Hon-duras and Central America line from Greytown brings the latest news from the American canal diggers. The Nicaragua Canal people, it appears, realizing the great magnitude of their enterprise, are proceed-ing very quietly. The contracts and sub-contracts, with detailed specifications, are being very carefully and thoroughly pre-pared. The recent change of location of the Atlantic terminus of the canal has solved the problem of the Greytown harbor which will be made one of the best harbors on the coast, and a breakwater for its protection has already been commenced. It tection has already been commenced. It looks now as though the entire work would probably be divided into three divisions. The contract for the first division, it is understood, will go to a strong California syndicate. The health of the entire party of Americans is satisfactory, and everything that can possibly be done to push the work is done in a steady and thorough manner.

SILVER BULLION AS A BASIS FOR CÍRCULATION.

How John Jay Knox Proposes to Use the Surplus Silver and Provide for Its Future.

The Czar Objects to the Violation of the Berlin Treaty.

Berlin, Jan. 6.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] It is confirmed that Russia has sent a circular note to all the powers that signed the treaty of Berlin in regard to the violation of the treaty by the present condition of the treaty by the present condition of things in Bulgaria, and particularly by the pretended sovereignty of Prince Ferdinand.

THE WEST END SCANDAL.

be used for the safety fund, if serious objectious are made, as the tax on the circulation, which amounted in 1889 to $1,410,331, is abundant for creating and maintaining a sufficient fund for the absolute redemption of 30 per cent, of all issues of all national banks. The Comptroller's report for 1889 shows that during the last 25 years the total circulation of insolvent bank notes each year, on the average, was $600,000, 30 per cent, of which would be $180,000. The tax one-circulation last year was nearly eight times the amount of the safety fund required. If the circulation is increased the tax will be correspondingly increased, so that the amount to be added annually to the safety fund from it, is, without doubt, abundantly sufficient to provide for 30 per cent, of all the insolvent banks of the country.

The average of a regulation under this propbe used for the safety fund, if serious ob count of all the insolvent banks of the country.

The profit on circulation under this proposition would not be large, but it would be sufficient to induce many, if not all, of the smaller national banks to deposit silver bullion and take out circulation. Mr. Knox estimates that at the end of the next 20 years, or at the date of payment of the 4 per cent, bonds in 1992, the safety fund would have accumulated at least $25,000,000, so that from that time on the circulation would remain permanently in existence, well secured by gold and silver bullion and sufficiently profitable to make the present amount of United States notes to respond to the demands of the business of the country. It would also give the banks in the West, as well as in the East, who have confidence in the future value of silver, an opportunity to lavest in that metal, and he believed such investments would be made in the next three years equal at least to $20,000,000 annually, and thus relieve the treasury from excessive purchases.

To the Honorable Council of the City of Los Angeles: I return herewith without my approval the accompanying demands against the city for labor and materials furnished in remodeling and refitting the old City Hall, because of the illegal manner. In which this work has been ordered to be done. On August 14, 1889, the Board of Police Commissioners "requested that they be authorized to refit, returnish and remodel said quarters for the Convenience of the gepartment, including a receiving hospital and offices for the Police Surgeon." Instead of authorizing this commission. To perform this work, your honorable body on August 19th returned to said board the reply that "the matter was ordered to be done under the supervision of the Committee on Public Buildings," but it does not appear that it was done under this supervision. On September 19th the said commission advised your honorable body that a general plan of remodeling the building had been agreed upon, and were spectfully recommend that an architect be employed to draft plans and specifications for said work, and that the same be advertised for competitive bids for the period of 10 days, etc. To this 11st request of said board your honorable body has not seen fit to make any reply, but has gone on and had this work done without any architect, California on Wheels Heard From-The Los Angeles Exhibit Ahead of All-The Sweet Wine Bill-Resolutions on John R. Brierly's Death.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce met in the chamber yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Judge Fitzgerald in the chair. The thanks of the chamber were tendered the management of the Northern Citrus Fair for complimentary tickets.

Secretary Higgins read a letter from S. J. Mathes, at New Orleans, who is with "California on Wheels." The writer states that the exhibit has made a great hit in the South, and the Los Angeles exhibit is far ahead of the

Mr. Higgins then said: Mr. Higgins then said:
I want to say to the board that this letter is very gratifying to me, personally. I had thought much over the matter of our exhibit for this year, and the officers had figured out about what expense we could afrord, and all the time with a view of what would attract attention in the East. Many people supposed, judging from their comments, that the exhibit was gotten up for the purpose of winning the approphation of people supposed, judging from their comments, that the exhibit was gotten up for the purpose of winning the approbation of Los Angeles visitors. I confess that for one I was quite surprised at this turn of atfairs when the car came, and was sorely tried in keeping quiet under some very unjust criticisms. I thought we had in the car what would attract much attention, and though it was not nearly all on display here, I supposed this chamber would be given a little privilege of exercising judgment on what was proper to go and the officers some credit for their endeavors. Mr. Mathes does not know anything about whether the car did or did not meet with approbation here, and of course writes entirely impartial the car did or did not meet with approbation here, and of course writes entirely impartial the car did or did not meet with approbation for the car did or did not meet with approbation solutions, which were adopted:

thought that the garbage could be disposed of for about $15,000 per annum.

Councilman Bonsall also favored a crematory, saying that he had given the subject considerable thought, and was of the opinion that it was a good thing.

Councilman McLain presented an ordinance of intention for the regrading of Temple street, Grand and Bunker Hill avenues, Flower, Pearl and Beau dry streets.

The City Attorney stated that the ordinance was substantially the same as that vetoed by the Mayor last week, only such changes being put in as are measured and the ordinance passed.

Bids for the disposal of the city's garbage were received from E. W. Reed and D. F. Dunnigan. Reed's proposition is to collect the garbage for $225 per month, and furnish one can contain a second charge of a similar nature, and of course writes entirely impartial and for eight posted of did not meet with approbation here, and of course writes entirely impartial and for exprisor.

INTERESTING ABOUT THE WILL

San Francisco Lawyers Taking Testimony in This City-The Inside Facts About the Mysterious Will - What Frank Cherry Knows About the Will.

Possibly no cause which has ever claimants which is at present on trial. Next in the line of claimants come the Savages of London, who claim to be the next of kin of the deceased. These Savages of Louden, who claim to be the next of kin of the deceased. These claimants, seven or eight in number, are alleged cousins of Thomas H. Blythe. Their theory is that Morris and Eleanor Savage had born to them in London three children — James Savage, alias Thomas H. Blythe, Michael and Johanna—the claimants being children of the last two named. These contestants aver that Blythe was convicted of a petty offense when a boy in England, and that he was transported to a foreign land in consequence. It is claimed that Blythe and James Savage are one and the same person; that he was born amid the fogs of London, of honest parents, and that there was no blot on the family escutcheon until he placed it there. His father was a plasterer, and James helped him at his trade until he was 15 years old. At this period he was a little gray, as he always was in later life, and he fell in with a little siren, in short petticoats and red stockings, who induced him to go into an iron molder's shop and steal a cruet-stand, and he was sent to Van Dieman's Land for seven years. The disgrace brought upon the family was so great that his father died of a broken heart a few months later, and his mother soon followed. When released James peddled in Australia, it is claimed by the Savage heirs, and earned the money with which he went to San Francisco. Such is the story of all those who think that they alone are entitled to Blythe's year.

During the progress of the trial in the northern metropolis the different alleged heirs have proved—that is, if the evidence is to be believed—that Savage had about one hundred parents and that he first saw the light of day in fifty different places.

and that he has saw the light of day in fifty different places.

Several days ago a recess was taken in the case, and all the attorneys rep-resenting the different would-be heirs resenting the different would-be heirs came down to Los Angeles for the purpose of taking the depositions of several parties residing here. They came into town rather quietly, but their advent was learned yesterday by a TIMES reporter, who managed to learn what was going on. The fact is that yesterday morning the taking of the testimony in the celebrated case was closed the celebrated case was closed before Notary Public Holmes in the Temple block, and as soon as it is written out by London Prophers the written out by Longley Brothers, the stenographers, the deposition will be sent to San Francisco and offered in the case. The first deposition taken was that of Mrs. E. S. Guiterrez, who lives on First street, opposite Banning. She stated substantially that she used taliya in San Francisco mid that while on First street, opposite Banning. She stated substantially that she used to live in San Francisco and that while there she met Thomas H. Blythe and became very well acquainted with him. Her husband used to act as bookkeeper and collector for the deceased. The witness stated that she and her husband used to live in the same house with Blythe and Alice Edith. The witness swore positively that she believed Alice Edith to be his wife. She would not swear, though, that she ever heard the deceased call her his wife, or even introduce her as Mrs. Blythe. She stated that after Blythe's death a Mrs. Jeffries and Mrs. Hart, prominent society people at San Francisco, called upon Alice Edith and called her Mrs. Blythe. "They put their arms around her neck," said the witness, "in a caressing way, and said, "do not cry, Mrs. Blythe, his death may be all for the best." Continuing, the witness said that years before Blythe's demise, when absent, she had written letters to Alice Edith and had addressed her as Mrs. Blythe. She said that she had always introduced Alice Edith to her Mrs. Blythe. She said that she had always introduced Alice Edith to her friends as Mrs. Blythe, which she believed her to be. At the conclusion of her evidence she showed the following letter which was wear and the said of ing letter, which was made one of the exhibits in the case:

exhibits in the case:

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11, 1883.

Mr. and Mrs. Gutterrez: 1 respectfully request your presence at the reinterment of my deceased husband this day at 4 o'clock, from Mr. Porter's undertaking establishment, 6 O'Farrell street.

Carriages for my friends will be in waiting, and one especially will be at your disposal. Remaining very sincerely.

The deposition of William Clayton, better known as Senator Clayton, one of the prison-keepers under Chief Glass, was also daken. He testified substantially that he knew Blythe in early days in San Francisco, and that they were on friendly terms. On one occasion he was the possessor of $150 worth of a canine pup which he wanted to palm off on old-Blythe, but the latter differed with him on the valuation. He wanted the dog, but would not pay the price asked, and in consequence the dog gave his allegiance to another master. He also had some dealings with Blythe about some patents, and it was during one of these visits that a little incident happened. A main named Theo. Savage, a well-known sport, called to see Blythe about renting one of these visits that a little incident happened. A main named Theo. Savage, a well-known sport, called to see Blythe about renting one of these works and the second of th loon. The cld man said that he was of the "same family" himself, and would like to oblige him, but he would not have a ginmill in his stores. He explained that the other stores in the block did a great deal of business with ladies, which would be injured by the loafers who hang about a grogshop. Being "one of the family himself," the witness understood to mean that Blythe's name was Savage. Frank W. Cherry and wife were to have been examined on behalf of "Alice Edith Blythe." They were regularly subponaed, and were on attendance before the notary, but they were not called.

Possibly no cause which has ever been tried in this State has developed more public interest than the Blythe will case, at present occupying the attention of Probate Judge Coffey in San Francisco.

As will be remembered, the struggle is for the possession of a piece of property lying between Geary, Market and Dupont streets, in San Francisco. It is centrally located, and the rents from this parcel alone amount to several thousand dollars monthly. Blythe also possessed divers other interests, making his estate valued at several million dollars.

Shortly after his demise, in April, 1883, Alice Edith Dickinson, claimed to be the widow of Thomas H. Blythe. She took his name; sent invitationa to her friends to attend her "late husband's buriat;" and by every means in her power, left no avenue closed by which she could possibly secure his vast possessions. Little Florence Wilmot also came over from England about this time with Grandpa Perry, and she, too, thought that she should have the estate. She is now 16 years of ago, and she claims that she is the daughter of the deceased millionaire. It is her claim that in 1873, when Blythe was in Europe, that he seduced her mother under the promise of marriage. That in due time she was born, and that on several occasions he acknowledged her to be his helr. It is her atta and state the sand that the sadded that the research of the deceased millionaire. It is her claim that in 1873, when Blythe was in Europe, that he seduced her mother under the promise of marriage. That in due time she was born, and that on several occasions he acknowledged her to be his helr. It is her atta against all of the other claimants which is at present on trial. Next in the line of claimants come the Savages of Louden, who claim to be the next of kin of the deceased. These claim that, she he next of kin of the deceased. These claim that, she he next of kin of the deceased. These claim that, she he next of kin of the deceased. These claim that, she he next of kin of the deceased. These claim that, sh not have the will referring to her as his adopted niece probated. It is Cherry's claim that she burned the will. At any rate, he holds what purports to be a copy taken in the presence of his wife.

Florence Blythe's attorneys are allowing Alice Edith to expose all the testimony she has, and at the proper time they will produce Cherry and his wife and explode the bombshell, which will scatter the different heirs into as will scatter the different heirs into as many climes as Blythe has birthplaces.

Mr. Cherry is not a legatee under the copy of the alleged will which he holds, and no reason can at present be shown to discredit his story.

CLIMATE AND COMMON SENSE

CLIMATE AND COMMON SENSE.

One occasionally hears complaints from eastern people who have come to Southern California for their health that the climate has not done them so much good as they had been led to expect that it would.

In nine cases out of ten, the cause of this lack of improvement lies not in the climate, but in the invalid.

There is a very general misconception among outsiders regarding the climate of Southern California. Many believe it to possess a more than semi-tropic temperature. They seem to think that one may comfortably spend the night, during the greater part of the year, in a hammock, under a tree. Upon arriving here, they are surprised to find that a double blanket is necessary for comfort, almost every night in the year, and in winter two pairs.

It is not at all extraordinary that strangars should acquire such mistages mentioned.

strangers should acquire such mistaken ideas regarding the climate of this section, when our own people do not appear to thoroughly understand it, to judge, at least, from the manner in which they build. Arrangements for which they build. Arrangements for warming rooms are, as a rule, conspicuous by their absence, whereas, in this climate, a cheerful open fire-or at least a serviceable stove-should be found in every room, for winter use. Even during the spring and fall, the marked and sudden change of temperature which follows the setting of the sun renders a fire attractive, of an evening. Provisions should be made to secure the free access of sunshine to every room in the house. There is a difference of temperature between sunshine and shadow-a marked chillness in the shade-in Southern California, which is unknown in the East, where the atmosphere is more humid. There would also be no harm in building our houses a trifle more solidly than we are accomplaints have originated in the phlet, that "the expense of building is less here than in the East, because such solid structures are not necessary in this climate." While the temperature does not begin to fall as low in Southern California as it does in the States east of the Rocky Mountains, there is a searching character about what cold we do get, which is apt to make itself-and our lack of warming facilities-felt by invalids. Another mistake made by health-Southern California has the same climate. On the contrary, there is a great difference between the climates of the coast, the interior valleys and the mountains-a difference which it is paper for the full term for which they of prime importance for the invalid to understand. In taking medicine, the atient is careful to follow directions. He should display at least as much care in making a "climate cure" if he expects to benefit by it. There is enough climate in Southern California and of a sufficiently healthgiving character to insure recovery to all invalids who are not hopelessly

This was one of the "slate" appointments agreed upon by the California delegation some time since—one that THE TIMES has said, and now repeats, was not a fit appointment to be made. Why? Because Mr. Seamans does not occupy a position in this community, in business, in politics, or in the Republican party that entitles him, above hundreds of other Republicans, to the distinction con-Republicans, to the distinction conferred. It will not tend to promote harmony and strength in the Republican organization of Southern California, when the dignified claims of the best men are ignored and the clamors of hungry adventurers are satisfied in preference. On the next day I was there and so was the ex-chief clerk, with a bindle of Ojai Views, and written charges against the Register. After blowing the dust from them, the ex-chief clerk, who had pigeonholed my charges as fast as I forwarded them, said, with a chalky smile, "Ah, yes; I recollect you. We had quite a correspondence, didn't we? He, he! It's all fixed now, ain't it? Going to renew the charges? Why? Don't you get the advertisements?"
I briefly stated to this sycophant, whose name I did not hear on being introduced, and do not want to know, that though I had gained my point in that matter, and afterward sold my newspaper, I still intended pushing the charges.

The follow looked at me in amazement, and asked why I should take further interest in the matter, and asked whether I had any friends to recommend for the office.

I replied "No"; that I was a Democrat, and certainly would not ask a favor from a Republican administration.

The old fellows had evi-dently started out to have a good time, as Watson had a basket in which he had a bottle of cocktails, some oranges and other fruits. Watson is commonly known as the "Professor," and is quite a character in his way, having traveled all over the world, and claims, in a modest sort of way, never to have met his equal "in knowledge, refinement and all that goes to make up a gentle-man."

The man looked more amazed than ever, and the clerks, who had been listening to the conversation, quit work and looked round in equally blank astonishment.

I saw nothing strange in my action, but was now amused at their astonishment.

I looked over my charges wherein I stated that public land within three miles of my office, and which should have been advertised in my paper, was illegally advertised in a distant paper in another town. Here those charges laid for one year. I thought that, no matter how obscure the newspaper, or how small influence the m.m. may have, if his legal rights are maliciously ignored, it is but justice to himself and to others that he insist to the last on-being heard. HOW PATTON WAS REMOVED.

The Deadly "Patent Outside" Gets in Its Work on the Register. [Washington letter delayed in Transit.] Washington (D.C.), Dec. 19, 1889.—[ the Editor of THE TIMES. The Secretary of the Interior, Hon. John W. Noble, has recnmended to the President that the Regis ter of the Land Office at Los Angeles be rethe removal, which the Secretary stated to presentative Vandever. The cause that more than passing interest to the people of the Los Angeles district generally, and to several newspaper men more particularly, For, in his case, it is not "offensive parti-sanship," but "offensive discrimination." If THE TIMES will allow me to "come out from myself" and make a statement of the case, I will be very much obliged indeed. THE CASE STATED.

While publishing the Ojai Valley View, at Nordhoff, Ventura county, in the latter part of 1887, the then Register, Bethune, repart of 1837, the then Register, Bettude, re-fused to give public land notices to the View. I wrote him that the law gave him no discretion in the matter; that the notice must be printed in a paper published near-est the described land, and at the same time reported the matter to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, at Washington.

In a few months Bethune resigned, and Patton succeeded to the Register's office. Patton continued to discriminate against my newspaper, and I reported him to the Commissioner of the General Land Office. A lengthy triangular correspondence followed between myself and the Commissioner, and the Commissioner and Patton, in which duplicate typewriter letters from the one was forwarded to the other. During this period of red and bine tape circumlocution, which covered aboutone year, there were about 20 public land locations illegally advertised—each of which were enumerated.

Mr. Stockslager, who was then Commissioner, did not seem to have enough backbone to remove Patton; yet, he virtually admitted that I was right, and wrote the Register to give me the advertisements which lawfully belonged to that section. This letter I published in the View. The Register paid no attention to the Commissioner; and at the same time I wrote to the Commissioner; and at the same time I wrote to the Commissioner; and at the same time I wrote to the Commissioner; and at the same time I wrote to the Commissioner; and at the same time I wrote to the Commissioner; and at the same time I wrote to the Commissioner; and at the same time I wrote to the Interior Department; the Secretary referred it to the Commissioner, who wrote to the Register to cease his discrimination against my paper, and that when the did not wish to hear any more complaints about that office."

I am a Democrat, believe that "to the victors belong the spoils," and do not think shall be to attend to the departmental business. that a Democrat can consistently hold an administration. This, together with the fact of Patton's "offensive discrimination" against my patent-outside newspaper, caused me to call at the General Land Office caused me to call at the General Land Office last week. I first called on Representative Vandever, who gave me a note of introduction to ex-Gov. Stone, Assistant Commissioner of the Land Office. I said to Gov. Stone: "Bethune refused to give me the advertisements under the pretext that the paper was not likely to continue publication; yet, I showed that it was sound financially."

"Then he knew more about your business than you did, yourself?" said the Governor, Ironically. "The Register is allowed no discretion. The law is plain."

"His successor, Patton, continued to dis-

After further conversation, in which the matter was fully explained, the Governor gave me a note to the chief cierk, Mr. Radfield, formerly of Lugonia, Cal.

Mr. Radfield said: "Those charges were fited during the last administration. The gentleman who was chief clerk at that time knows where they are, and if you will be kind enough to call temorrow I will have him produce the papers for your inspection, and if you wish to renew the charges you can forward them, with another explanatory letter, to the Commissioner of the General Land Office."

"He shall be removel. Whom do you recommend?"

Gen. Vandever recommended Mr. Seamans of Los Angeles, whereupon the Secretary made another memoranda, and again assured Mr. Vandever that the removal should be made as soon as possible.

If the appointment of Seamans does not go in today, it will be put in on the first week after the holiday recess, and the Committee on Public Lands in the Senate will lose no time in confirming the nomination. This is the history of the case. I have no interest in the new Register. My interest is in the removal of the Register who thought he could ignore my newspaper and that, too, in defiance of the law. I appealed to some of the Democratic "bosses." so called, in Los Angeles, several months ago, and was told that it was useless for me to "kick," that I had no influence, etc. And this in the face of the law. But—well, the result shows, and it also teaches future-officials who imagine that they are not, and that they had better hesitate twice before monkeying with a country newspaper, even though it have a patent front.

The House Code of Rules, WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Although the House Committee on Rules has not held a House Committee on Rules has not held a session during the recess, Speaker Reed, who is its official chairman, has had drafted a code of rules for the government of the House during the coming session. He has not vet submitted it to the other members of the committee and, consequently, is reticent as to the changes proposed. It is understood that the old rules will be largely readopted. There will be important changes proposed in those which relate to the mode of procedure in the House. A clause will be inserted to enable the Speaker to put a stop to fillbustering actions, when their object is clearly manifest, and a change will be made so as to admit of additional new legislation to the general appropriation bills.

ated Press.] The first gentleman to appear before the Ways and Means Committee this morning was F. W. Cheney, president of the Silk Association of America. He said the Senate bill was acceptable to him. Britton Richards, secretary of the same association, advocated the imposition of a compound duty on silk. He said about half the silk consumed in this country was of American manufacture. The great obstacle which the American manufacture had to contend against was undervaluation. He did not believe that any duty would be laid on raw sik high enough to protect the silk-growers of this country without crip-silk-growers of this country without crip-ping manufacture.

Philip Walker, Chief of the Silk Bureau of the Department of Agriculture, submit-ted specimens of coccops and silk produced from those raised in the United States. He dwelt upon the importance of building up the silk industry in the United States. The Department of Agriculture has purchased a good many coccons from the Silk Culture Society which had collected them in Cali-fornia.

Joseph Neuman of San Francisco favored Joseph Neuman of San Francisco Tavored the imposition of duty on raw silk.

John Dymond, president of the Sugar Pianters' Association, read a memorial asking for protection sufficient to enable the United States to produce its own sugar. Dymond said the free sugar from the Sandwich Islands did not affect the price of sugar in this country, and was not, therefore, a detriment to the sugar industry of the United States.

Ex-Gov. Walmouth of Louislana spoke at Same length. He said that during the late Ex-Gov. Walmouth of Louisiana spoke at some length. He said that during the late political campaign in his State, he had been met at various points by Representative so and so from Pennsylvania, and Ohio and Michigan in favor of a reduction of 50 per cent, tariff on sugar. In the face of these speeches he had not been as successful as he would wish in converting his Democratic friends. Walmouth thought the effect of the bounty, after a year's experiment, would be the destruction of the sugar industry. "If you want friends in Louisiana," said he, "you must not touch the sugar tariff. We cannot not be sugar tariff. We cannot not be sugar tariff. We cannot not half a cent a pound. not stand a reduction of half a cent a pound It would be ruleous to the industry, and without sugar the city of New Orleans would be depopulated." If the commit without sugar the city of New Orleans would be depopulated." If the committee could guarantee to the planters that a succeeding Congress would not disturb it, he would be glad to accept a bounty of 2 cents per pound on the sugar he raised. He wanted, however, to stand on the same ground with the other protection industries. Gov. Gear remarked: "You don't stand on the same ground with them; you don't produce any thing like enough to supply the demands of the country."

Walmouth replied: "We bid fair to if we are given the encouragement extended to sugar product from sorgular cane, and now it was increasing under the protection of the tariff.

Mr. Peters doesn't think much of the bounty. He said: "It is a departure from the tariff policy, with which the people are familiar; its imposition would invite a constant agitation of the question to the detriment of the industry. Kaneas needs additional capital to put up sorghum sugar mills, but that capital cannot be obtained under a bounty." The witness, however, argued strongly in favor of the retention of the duty, and turning his remarks into a political vein, said there was a feeling of unrest among the farmers of his State, which, if not allayed, might result in making Kansas, with its $2,000 Republican majority, a Democratic State.

What He Says About the Riche Will Reflections.
L. Schmidt has written a letter to THE TIMES with reference to the article under the heading "Ferdinand Riche," published in this paper on the 3d inst, in which he says that Mr. Riche's last will was undoubtedly sug gested by intentions inimical to himself and his attorney, and in support of which assertion he incloses translation of a letter which, he says, explains itself. He adds that THE TIMES' commentary in relatranslation of a letter which, he says, explains itself. He adds that The Times' commentary in relation to this subject is erroneous; that Mr. Riche had no share in the Requena-tract property, but purchased some lots in San Diego conjointly with Mrs. Desté; that, having heard that Mr. Riche, while laboring under-mental depression, had destroyed a deed which conveyed conjointly with Mrs. Desté said lots in San Diego to him, and given Mrs. Desté, without his knowledge, a power of attorney for the disposition of said lots, in order to protect his interests he had to issue an injunction against any transaction concerning this property. The trial, he says, was to take place October 3, 1889, but-owing to the absence of his attorney, the case was dismissed under exception, and the appeal is now pending. His attorney is not interested in the matter beyond this, he says, and only knew Mr. Riche by sight.

The translation referred to is dated Cucamonga, February 1, 1889, signed Fred L. Riche, and affirms that Riche is ignorant of Mrs. Desté's intentions, but intimates that if Schmidt feels aggrieved he will indemnify him for to Los Angeles that Schmidt will not receive him unkindly, as he is not to blame in the matter.

The article complained of by Mr. Schmidt is the publication of the will of the late Ferd L. Riche, filed for probate on the 2d inst., in which is the following clause: "I further desire that my executor will in no way compromise or recognize any claim of L. Schmidt and W. T. Williams, or either of them, to my property, or to my estate, or to any part thereof, as I do not owe them, or either of them, a cent in any way or manner, and they have attempted to blackmail and rob me of my property by maintaining a false and groundless suit against me, making me expense and trouble, and shortening my life."

In explanation of the reference to Messrs. Schmidt and Williams, the following commentary was made, which, Messrs. Schmidt and Williams, the following commentary was made, which, Mr. Schmidt says, is an error, the property in dispute having been in San Diego: "The suit mentioned in the will grew out of a realestate transaction which took place in the fall of 1888. October 8th of that year L. Schmidt, together with E. L. Desté, Elise Desté and Elizabeth Hofreider bought some lots in the Requena tract for $11,000, in the Requena tract for $11,000, Schmidt paying $1500, the property being put in the name of Elise Desté and Elizabeth Hofreider. Some complications arose, and Schmidt sued the Destés and Mrs. Wilhelmina Meyer for a 3-22 interest in the property, W. T. Williams acting as his counsel. The case was afterward dismissed on motion of the plaintiff and judgment given the defendants for costs. This was the beginning of the feeling which possessed the deceased to mention Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Williams in his will."

Crown Cigarettes. Cigarette smoking is justly considered a enace to the young generation of Ame The evil influences of it may be noticed in the pale faces and nervous disposition characteristic of our youth.

A discovery has, however, been made in England recently, which, it is hoped, will help to diminish the great number the vice of cigarette smoking. This discovery is known as the "CROWN CICARETTE," An article manufactured entirely from whole-some roots and herbs. Young men helplessly addicted to eigarette smoking should give the Crown Cigarettes a trial immediately. They will find that it re-stores vigor and health where the poisonous weed manufactured from tobacco and poison ous chemicals destroys it. Crown Cigarettes are recommended by the eading physicians of Europe as a health-pro ducer and an invaluable assistance to diges tion. They help to ease the chest and promote expectoration. EVERYBODY in Pasadena can go snowballing today if he can climb. The easiest way will be to go up the Gidding's trail, where you can walk in half an hour over the snow line and pelt the snowbanks with oranges and roses, carried up for the purpose.

THE question of library bonds or no library bonds will come up at an early day, and while we have an abiding faith in things in general, we do not believe with our esteemed contemporary that there will be no opposition. Some benighted individuals do not want a library at all; others do not want to pay the few cents extra tax; others would vote for the library straight, but will refuse to accept it mixed, and many more will take either alternative rather than see the matter longer delayed and the city ultimately lose the library. It is a matter which every man must decide for himself, without interference, yet we are con-strained to hope that the bonds will be

A Young lady reader of THE TIMES sends a protest against a gentle diatribe which we launched against gossips last week. Our fair correspondent seems to have taken it to herself, which would indicate a possible necessity for the article in question. We would add, however, for her benefit, that the article was not aimed at any particular person or town. The press will have reached a low ebb when its forces engage in innuendo. The gossip, man and woman, is found everywhere, but certainly the social life of Pasadena is free to a marked extent from it. Our article was suggested by a society which has recently been established in Baltimore by a number of ladies who, possibly recognizing that there is need of reform, propose making a fight against the evil. The bylaws contain a rule to the effect that no member shall discuss the private affairs of another to his or her detriment. The members instituted a gradulated in having within its limits number of experiments, which proved that men were as prone to gossip as efficient as is Mr. Hovey. ment. The members instituted a women. A story was told a gentleman in strict confidence, as a test, and it was found to have gone through the Comings and Goings at Pasadena hands of over one hundred persons in. two weeks. Each man had repeated it in "strict confidence." One of the debates of this club decided that men were worse gossips than women, which we offer as solace to our young correspondent.

some of the Floral Beauties That May Be Seen - Roses By the Thousands-A Splendid Variety of Plants.

A visit to the Raymond nurseries should not be missed by tourists wintering here, or by Pasadenians who have not thought it worth their while to pass a morning looking over the place. Prohably no finer collection of will be provided for each evening this place. Probably no finer collection of flowers or plants, either for their rarity or numbers, can be found elsewhere in the State.

. Under the management of Mr. C. H. Hovey, who has been eminently successful in growing rare floral and plant. The excellence of the culinary decessful in growing rare floral and plant specimens, a seed store has been fitted up on Columbia street, near its intersection with Fair Oaks avenue, forming an important branch of the Nursery Company's business. The store has been made first-class in all its appointbeen made first-class in all its appointments, and is thoroughly equipped with every variety of flower and vegetable seeds. The business is conducted on principles gained after an experience of 50 years in the East. All the seeds are brought from the East or imported from foreign countries, only the best varieties and the latest novettes being purchased. As a result purchasers can be assured of growing a superior line of vegetables and of having their lawns ornamented with everything that is new in plants and flowers.

The boom is over, and Pasadena begins the year 1890 with every prospect of a successful future. Her real estate is valued at about four million five hundred thousand dollars. The assessed value of improvements is $1,770.595; the total value of property, personal or otherwise, $7,220,000 or of the multitude of carnations. Over 2000 personal or otherwise, $7,220,000 or of the guide from Europe, have just been cived from Europe c

> The visitor cannot but be impressed with the magnificent collection of cineraria. Mr. Hovey claims that the collection is the largest ever seen in California, or in the East, for that matter. There are cyclamen to the number of 500 or more, and primroses in great variety, including a number of rare specimeus of the Chinese primrose. One of the greenhouses on the land of the company, lying to the east of the hotel, is filled with tropical plants and ferns. Specially to be noted are 300 palms of recent planting and rare THE Chinese are prodigal in the matter of gods, having one for almost correction. If such were the maiden's-hair fern, recently brought from the South Sea Islands.

In another greenhouse are 500 axilias, lately imported from Europe, while near by may be seen several hundred poinsettins of scarlet brilliancy, and a splendid collection of camellias. In frames for flowering in March there are a thousand hyacinths, tulips and other Dutch bulbs. Among the roses there is one house filled solely with the Papa Gutler variety. Another house contains Brides and nearly 2000 American beauties, a new and mag-joining house is filled with rare ferns of endless varieties.

Along the hotel driveways are thousands of annuals of nearly every known sands of annuals of nearly every known species. The beds in front of the south-veranda are planted in-pretty designs with callas, poinsettias and vincas. Among the rare plants on the grounds that attract attention is a magnificent specimen of the auralia paparacea, or Chinese rice paper plant, which is now in full bloom; also the Egyptian paper plant, cyperus papyrus. Among the rare tropical fruits are the tamarind, custard apple, alligator pear, tamarind, custard apple, alligator pear,

The varieties of camellias deserve special mention, and are alone worth seeing. They are seedlings of American origin, raised by the late C. M. Hovey, and are far ahead of any of the Japanese varieties.

Mr. Hovey gives his undivided personal attention to the care of all the nursery company's property, and sees

Flowers can be bought here at prices that are about one-third of those asked in the Eastern States, while many of the species grown here are not obtainable at any price further East. One of the chief attractions of the Raymond Hotel are the splendid floral ornamentations of its grounds, and Pasadena is to be congratulated in having within its limits

The prizes are sufficiently handsome to attract a large number of contestants, and as all outsiders are to be admitted to take part the games will doubtless be numerous and interesting. A number of the members of the Pasadena Lawn Tennis Club have signified their intention to take part, and through the courtesy of the Hotel Entertainment Committee all the outside contestants will be entertained at lunch. The public is cordially invited to be present on the club market of the toll road.

BREVITIES.

The overland was only one hour late yesterday afternoon. The Committee on Armory of Company B met yesterday evening.

The heaviest frost of the season lay on the ground yesterday morning. Health Officer McAllister says that la grippe has not yet struck Pasadena.
The San Gabriel Valley looked at its best yesterday and everybody was happy. The week of prayer is being generally observed by the Pasadena churches.

Peter Steil and a small party started for the top of Wilson's Peak yesterday morning.

Judge Van Doren yesterday sent a tramp to the gloomy confines of a prison cell for 20 days. A water main is being laid on Union street, between Fair Oaks and Ray-mond avenues. It has been decided to hold the Har-

Workmen are repairing the flume at the foot of Temple street, that was washed out by last week's rains.

Lippincott & Son are painting and otherwise improving their establishment on South Fair Oaks avenue.

A meeting of the Pickwick Claib was held yesterday evening. Officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year.

The Campbell-Johnston dam at San Rafael ranch, which forms the road to the tunnel, went by the board during the flood.

Some Pasadenians complain of the scarcity of local theater attractions. Probably lack of proper patronage is at the root of the trouble.

The proprietor of a sea shell store on South Fair Oaks avenue says he can't see that the business shells out much. This is not intended to be funny.

There is a bad hole in the road near the bridge at Lincoln Park. A valua-ble blooded horse became mired in it yesterday, and it took almost all Lin-coln Park to haul him out.

Trains on the Santa Fé road ran nearly on schedule time yesterday, to the unspeakable delight of people all along the line. The morning trains were crowded with local passengers.

Mr. Crandall, of Crandall & Dewey, who has taken so many fine pictures of the Valley Hunt, has some good ones of the tournament on hand—the grand stand, the judges' stand, and various groups are very fine.

The sound of the hammer is still heard in the new City Hall, on North Fair Oaks avenue. When all the pro-jected improvements have been com-pleted the building's interior will be handsome and convenient, as well as comfortable.

The City Council of Pasadena has paid to the Lake Vineyard Land and Water Company the sum of $16 for the privilege of attaching 16 fire hydrants. to the pipes of the above-mentioned water company. The money was paid under protest, and without waiving any legal rights, the city officials state, and the compromise was made to avoid the risk of leaving town property without adequate protection in case of fire during the long delay incumbent upon an injunction suit.

The water men, however, claim to be at the top of the heap, and laugh at the idea of any subsequent legal action being taken on the part of the city to obtain free use of the pipes in case of fire. A Hard Case. Yesterday afternoon a barkeeper named Jim Cummings cleaned out a saloon on Alameda street, near the Hotel de Strasburg, and assaulted a man with a razor. Officer Harris man with a razor. Officer Harris started for the scene of the trouble, but as he entered the front door Cummings made his escape by the rear. The officer gave chase, and finally overhauled his man on Requena street, near Los Angeles. The patrol wagon was sent for, and Cummings was taken to the station. Here he attempted to assault Conductor Rowan with his razor, which he had secreted before he was arrested, but the officer drew his handcuffs, and, would probably have floored the Jough but for the arrival of Capt. Roberts, who caught Cummings and kept him from doing any damage. Cummings is a bad man when drunk, and the only wonder is that no one was hurt by him.

PEOPLE'S STORE.

WE INTEND TO DO' A FAVOR TO OUR PATRONS.

We Will Reduce the Ceneral Ratio of Profits-The More Goods We Sell the Cheaper We Can Buy Them.

Los Angeles, Jan. 7, 1891.

We were telling you in our last of our resolve to reduce the general ratio of proat for the present year. It is a rocognized fact that our house is the leader of prices and values in the section. Other houses base their prices on the rates charged at the People's Store. They must either sell as cheap or let the trade come to us, who seek it. It is why, by your cooperation, that we are able to lower the prices. The more trade we do the more goods we sell; takes us to the larger market whore lower rates are obtained, and when we purchase at a low rate we are able to sell at low prices. This all depends upon the amount we buy, and large buying can only be done by large solling. It is therefore evident that your trade is eagerly sought by us. Be the purchase even the smallest-mate, it is as welcome as the big, ponderous purchases. It will PEOPLE'S STORE, purchase even the smallest-mate, it is as welcome as the big, ponderous purchases. It will all add together in the end and aid us to buy largely, which means more cheaply, and lowest prices to our customers.
